Detectives Guard Aged Mrs. Louise Beauchamp Hughes for Fear She Will Be Spirited Away to an Insane Asylum.

MYSTERIOUS MRS.BOUGHTON

Detectives are guarding Mrs. Louise Beauchamp Hughes at the Park Ave. nue Hotel, where, her attorneys say, two attempts to kidnap her have been made since she was released from Dr. Kellogg's home at Riverdale. The guard has been placed in the fear that an effort is being made to decoy Mrs. Hugher outside the house and return her to an Insane asylum.

Detective-Sergt. McConville is on duty at the hotel, and he admitted that Capt. Titus had given orders to keep a close watch on all the visitors to the room of the old lady and to frustrate any attempt to take her from the hotel. Fur-ther than this McConville and Capt. Titus would not discuss the case.

Mrs. Hughes was released from the asylum on Saturday and the same day a woman registered as Mrs. Boughton. When Mrs. Hughes's attorney went to see her on Sunday he found Mrs. Boughton in the room. She had made friends with the old lady. Attorney Shipman, of the firm of Blandy, Mooney & Shipman, says Mrs. Boughton was employed by Edward G. Nile when he first secured Mrs. Hughes's commitment to Dr. Kellogg's institu-

"I had Mrs. Boughton watched," said "I had Mrs. Boughton watched," said Mr. Shipman, "and a detective followed her from Park avenue to the hotel where Mr. Niles is stopping, so I have reason to believe that she is still employed by him. She tried to persuade Mrs. Hughes to change her apartments to the same floor on which she lived, and after several attempts to get her to leave the hotel finally got her consent to take a ride. This plan was luckily nipped in the bud.

"Mrs. Boughton left the place after she found that she was being watched, not want is to spend her life in an in-sane asylum.

"There are others who do not want this arrangement, but who want to profit at her expense. I know just why those attempts were made to kidnap her from the hotel. It was fortunate that the management and servants at the Park Avenue were her friends, else we would likely have to again go through the pro-ceedings of obtaining her release."
